INTENSIVE IN-HOME

It is our experience that treating an individual within the context of their families and primary environments dramatically increases the chances of successful intervention. Research has shown that ecological factors have a much greater impact on an individual than previously thought. ACFS' Intensive in-home program was developed with these guiding principles.

MENTAL HEALTH SKILL BUILDING

MHSB is a training service for individuals with significant mental illness. ACFS' service is designed to train individuals in functional skills and appropriate behavior related to the individual's health and safety, activities of daily living, and use of community resources; assistance with medication management and monitoring health, nutrition, and physical condition.

MENTORING

We are committed to providing all encompassing services to the community. The most important service to any community is mentoring. Our mentoring process has been developed to address specific needs throughout the use of service plans and treatment meetings. It is during these meetings that an individualized approach can be implemented and monitored.
